NSF International is a not-for-profit organization whose mission is to facilitate public health and safety standards, and to provide testing services to those standards. Although conformance to these standards is voluntary, in many industries NSF standards have become the de facto benchmark for consumer product acceptability.

In the rubber industry, the most important standard by far, is the “NSF Standard 61: Drinking Water System Components - Health Effects”. Rubber compounds submitted to NSF undergo rigorous testing to determine whether any contaminants leach or migrate from the material while in long term contact with drinking water, and if so, if the level of migration is acceptable from a public health viewpoint.

All Seals is pleased to present a multitude of NSF Standard 61 certified compounds per the adjacent table*. In many cases, these compounds also comply with FDA food contact requirements per 21CFR, 177- 2600, a-d.
